

Quality Standards, Care Planning Principles and Defensible Documentation for RN's in Aged Care

Wednesday 20 October 2021
Online Via Zoom

About this program

This 3hr interactive workshop is designed to support existing Registered Nurses (RNs) within all aged care service settings, recently graduated RNs who are new to the Aged Service sector, and RNs who may be placed within facilities under Australian Government Skills Migration arrangements. Workshop content is also applicable for front line aged care workers, however the focus is on the role of RNs.

Learning outcomes

- ✓ Understand the relationship between the Aged Care Act and Quality Standards to the delivery of person-centred care to older persons.
- ✓ Understand the application of assessment, care planning and documentation principles relevant to Standards 1, 2 and 3.
- ✓ Apply care planning and documentation to case studies,
- ✓ Understand the principles of defensive documentation guidelines to support care recipients' wellbeing and mitigate risk management for team members and organisations.

Target audience

Registered Nurses within existing roles in the Aged Service sector, recently graduated RNs, and RNs that may be newly arrived in Australia and unfamiliar with Australian Aged Care legislation and Aged Care Quality Safety Commission audit compliance.
